

October 2023 EOQ: Thank You!

Thank you to everyone that made time to join us as we hosted a day of professional development on our UW campus! Please review this newsletter for a summary of the presentations given.

Presenters

Many thanks to our presenters, who included:

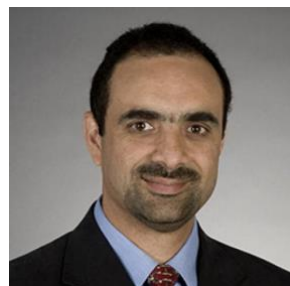

Lisa Erlanger, MD

Darron Smith, Ph.D

Joel Carey, MD

Misbah Keen, MD

Toby Keys, MPH

Erik Malmberg, MD

Clerkship Updates and Annual Evaluation Data

The Clerkship team provided several reminders and updates, including:

- Teaching Physician is a great resource for all preceptors and is free through the Clerkship. The login information is:
 - Username: uwfamedmse
 - Password: uwfamedpassword
- Department of Family Medicine Grand Rounds are happening now and feature many excellent talks coming up. Head to the departmental website for information on who is presenting and how to register.
- Dr. Carey presented an update on UWSOM Admissions. He taught us what is needed for an application, described the factors that go in to accepting a student in to the UWSOM, and provided insight into what our current class looks like. He also provided information on how to get involved in the admissions committee, which you can find in his PowerPoint.
- Site Directors were given packets containing the annual Clerkship evaluation data for the 2022-2023 clinical year based on required student evaluations. The data described Clerkship performance, included individual site comments, and included copies of individual preceptor evaluation summaries and comments. If you are a site director and didn't receive your packet either at the meeting or in the mail reach out to Max Keyes at fmclerk@uw.edu.

Presentations

Follow this link to view the presentations from the day along with the agenda and participant list. You can also follow the hyperlinks in the presentation titles in this newsletter (for those presentations that had slides).

The Weight of Bias: Anti-Fat Bias, Health, and Medical Education

Dr. Lisa Erlanger offered a unique perspective on anti-fat bias. She taught attendees to recognize the effects of anti-fat bias on patients' health, analyze weight-centric practice and research through an anti-bias lens, and implement an anti-bias framework for teaching and practice. Her PowerPoint (linked above) also offered many additional resources for further research.

Dr. Erlanger breaks down the meaning of Anti-Fat bias and how it manifests in medicine and medical education.

Attendees began the morning by giving introductions and site updates.

What Attracts Students to Family Medicine

Clerkship directors Dr. Misbah Keen, Toby Keys, and Dr. Joel Carey teamed up and dove into the factors that initiate and sustain interest in Family Medicine for students and current Family Medicine doctors. They broke down the following factors and discussed the efficacy of each: targeted marketing and outreach, pre-medical primary care exposure, financial incentives, primary care pipeline programs, and focus on URiM and rural students.

Novel Therapeutics in Depression and PTSD

Dr. Darron Smith presented on the current use of psychedelics in medicine. He discussed the historical context of psychedelic medicine and where the current research is leading. He also identified novel therapeutic applications of psychedelics into current medical practice.

Dr. Keen, Toby Keys, and Dr. Carey give an interactive presentation on factors that contribute to student interest in Family Medicine.

Nelson Chiu, MD

Chris Faison, MD

Pamela Pentin, MD

Tyler Raymond, MD

Introduction to New Assistant Dean for Equity and Student Engagement: Erik Malmberg, MD

The group was introduced to Erik Malmberg, the new Assistant Dean for Equity and Student Engagement, who discussed his role and his ideas for student engagement and equity.

Geoff Richardson, MD

Michael Stephens, MD

Annual Outstanding Faculty Awards

Congratulations to the winners of our 2022-2023 Outstanding Faculty Awards: Nelson Chiu, Chris Faison, Pamela Pentin, Tyler Raymond, Geoff Richardson, and Michael Stephens! Of almost 600 total preceptors in the FM Clerkship these winners were in the top one percent based on student evaluation data. Awards were presented to these exceptional faculty by Dr. Paul James, Dr. Misbah Keen, and Toby Keys.

Future EOQ Dates

We have booked our next couple EOQ dates and we are very pleased to announce the following:

- March 15-16- 2024
- June 21, 2024

Be sure to mark your calendars!